weeks. Trips also were made to Cologne, St. Quentin, Liege and other cities of interest.

Mr. Schuman says that he and his family were in Carlsbad when Austria declared war on Serbia, and in Dresden when the hostilities of the present war commenced August 1. As Dresden is the headquarters of the 12th German army corps, said Mr. Schuman, there was considerable activity when it was learned that war was declared. Mobilization was begun at once, he says, and thousands of men and hundreds of horses poured into the city. Mr. Schuman says that all army movements were made during the night, and that everything was carried out with peculiarly exact precision.

"Fatherland Is Confident."

The Schumans remained in Dresden for a month following the declaration of war, leaving that city for Berlin August 31. They remained in Berlin during September, and later journeyed to Hamburg. The party was booked to leave Rotterdam for New York October 3, but owing to the fact that the vessel on which they were to leave had been taken into service by the British government, Mr. and Mrs. Schuman and their daughter left Rotterdam for Liverpool via London October 5, from which port they sailed to New York City.

The Schumans remained in New York two weeks, leaving for San Francisco via Washington, D. C. During the journey from Germany to England Mr. Schuman says that his party was molested in no way. He says that there was great enthusiasm in Germany at the outbreak of the war, and that the Fatherland has every confidence of coming out ahead in the present great struggle.

seven to serve three years. Vacancies shall be filled by the remaining directors. Personnel of directors: The twenty-one members of the board shall be representative men and women. The majority of the men should be business men. Not more than six women are required. It is unnecessary to consider representatives of other societies and benevolent agencies on this board.

"Article V—Manager: Sec. 1. A manager shall be appointed by the board of directors and may be removed at its pleasure. He shall act as secretary of the board of directors and of all of the committees of the corporation.

"Article VI—Committees: Sec. 1. The president shall appoint within two weeks after his election the following committees: (a) An executive committee. (b) A finance and membership committee. (c) A family rehabilitation committee. (d) Such other committees as may from time to time be created by the board of directors. Sec. 2. The duties of these committees shall be as follows: (a) The executive committee composed of five members of the board shall act for the board, and shall directly oversee the work of the corporation, in the interim of the sessions of the board of directors. (b) The finance and membership committee composed of five members of the board shall have charge of raising the funds and of increasing the membership of the corporation. (c) The family rehabilitation committee shall plan out the treatment of the rehabilitation of families and individuals who make application for relief to the corporation. Non-members of the corporation may be appointed on this committee. (d) Committees shall report in writing at each meeting of the board of directors.

"Article VII—Meetings: (This is the same as section (1) of old by-laws with the exception of those phrases capitalized, which have been added. The sentences "officers of the ensuing year and six directors shall be elected," and "the board of directors shall meet in March, June, September and December," have been deleted.) "The fiscal year of the corporation shall begin with the first day of January, the annual meeting occurring during that month at such time as the executive committee shall decide; but all annual meetings of the preceding year shall continue as such until the adjournment of the annual meeting sine die. At the annual meeting reports shall be read by the officers of the corporation and directors elected. At least ten days before the annual meeting the president shall appoint a nominating committee of not less than three, which shall report at the annual meeting. The board of directors shall meet once each month upon the call of the president, or by the president upon the request of five members of the board. Special meetings of the corporation or board of directors shall be held at the call of the president through the secretary or upon the written request of three members upon due notice by telephone or mail."

CHAMBER AFTER LOCAL FEELING ON WAR MATTER

Requests Sentiment on "Gardner Resolution" to Probe U. S. Preparedness for War

Hawaii's sentiment upon the "Gardner Resolution," calling for an investigation into alleged unpreparedness of the United States for war, is requested through the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu.

The chamber has received from Washington a copy of the resolution introduced in the house on October 15 by Representative Gardner of Massachusetts providing for the appointment of a "National Security Commission" to make the investigation.

Attached to the copy of the resolution and to the printed report of the sensational and spirited congressional debate there is a petition which reads as follows:

"Resolved, that the Congress of the United States do adopt the Gardner resolution (H. J. Res. 372) providing for a national security commission to inquire into the question of the preparedness of the United States for war."

"Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the United States senators representing this state and the congressmen representing this district."

This petition is to test the local sentiment and to secure approval and endorsement of the Gardner resolution.

The resolution is as follows: "JOINT RESOLUTION. "Providing for a national security commission."

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that a commission is hereby created, to be called the National Security Commission, consisting of three senators, to be appointed by the president of the senate, and three members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and three persons to be appointed by the president of the United States. Said commission shall make full investigation, by subcommittee or otherwise, into the question of the preparedness of the United States for war, defensive or offensive. Said commission shall report to the Congress its findings and shall make such recommendations as in its judgment may seem proper."

"For the purpose of said investigation said commission is authorized to send for persons and papers, to make all necessary travel, either in the United States or any foreign country, and to administer oaths. Such sums of money as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this resolution are hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated; provided, that not more than one senator and one member of the House of Representatives appointed on said commission shall be a member either of the committee on military affairs or of the committee on naval affairs of their respective bodies."

FERTILIZER MATERIALS CURTAILED THROUGH THE GREAT EUROPEAN WAR
By C. S. ALBERT.
[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—The European war has caused the United States to look about for new sources of fertilizer material. The bureau of soils of the department of agriculture is looking to the Pacific coast for potash. Its forthcoming annual report will say:

"While the extraction of potash from such natural silicates as the feldspars is quite feasible physically, it is not practicable economically, unless some other salable product is produced in the same operation. An investigation into the use of feldspar in the fixation of atmospheric nitrogen showed promise of a practical method of producing ammonia simultaneously with potash from feldspar. The most promising American source of potash, however, is the annual crop of giant kelp on the Pacific coast. Working maps have now been made of nearly all the commercially available kelp beds from the Cedros Islands to the Shumagins, off the Alaskan coast. The area of these beds aggregates nearly 400 square miles, capable of yielding annually, either as dried kelp or as pure potassium chloride, over six times the present consumption of soluble potash salts in the United States, or something more than the world's present total production. The development of a great American industry, based on the conservation and utilization of this important national resource, of fundamental importance to the national agricultural interests, seems now to be a matter of time only."

Mayor Harrison of Chicago announced that he would not receive John Eads Howe, the "millionaire hobo" and a delegation of the unemployed which Howe proposed to bring to the city hall.

Louis Schneider, of Hastings, N. Y., wrote to the town clerk of that place to send him a certificate to him to prevent him from being shot as a German spy. Schneider is in prison at Westcott, England.

TOURIST PARTY IS HERE FROM THE SOUTHLAND

Accompanied by a party of tourists composed of seven residents of Southern California, Howard Truslow, general passenger and freight agent of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railway, arrived in Honolulu on the steamer Matsushita this morning, and will spend a week in the islands. The members of the party, all of whom are visiting Hawaii for the first time, are O. P. Cooke and Mrs. Cooke, Mrs. J. S. Blackburn, Mrs. F. M. Brooks, Mrs. E. Humphry, Mrs. J. S. Truslow and Mrs. Howard Truslow.

On account of the European war, says Mr. Truslow, tourist travel to the Pacific coast in 1915 will be enormous, and he predicts that Hawaii will receive a large share of this travel. Mr. Truslow has taken a number of parties through Yellowstone Park and said this morning that it is his intention to engineer several other small excursions to the Hawaiian islands. Mr. Truslow last visited Honolulu 12 years ago. The party will go to the Big Island on the Matsushita and, after a visit to the volcano, will return to San Francisco on the same steamer.

SCHOOL BOARD IS KEPT BUSY ON YEAR'S FUNDS

This morning's session of the board of school commissioners was given largely to the disposition of a quantity of small affairs, the preparation of the estimate for Oahu not being reached until noon. The Oahu estimate for school needs during the next two years is expected to be completed early this afternoon, however, and the commission may finish its session today. The estimates for the other three islands were passed upon yesterday afternoon. The total indicates that the school budget for the next biennium will be approximately $300,000 less than that of two years ago. This is due principally to the new administration's policy of frame and open-work construction of school buildings wherever the climatic conditions seem to warrant it, instead of attempting to erect concrete edifices, which are now deemed more unsanitary and considerably more expensive.
